

Discover the mutual difference.

Premiums stay where they do the most good — in your community.

With Kent & Essex Mutual Insurance, premiums stay in the community, employing neighbours, supporting the local economy and giving back. We invest in local projects and support what matters most to our policyholders. We've been buying local for generations, and community spirit has been part of our style for more than 133 years.

You're more than a policyholder, you have a voice. Let it be heard.

When you buy a policy, you automatically become a member of the company. That means you have a voice in important issues like electing a board of directors.

Represented by independent insurance brokers.

We partner with local insurance brokers who know the area and can recommend the proper coverage for your farm operation. Go to www.kemutual.com to find a broker near you.
