

50% Rebate

We will pay 50% of the expenses (up to $1,000) for the installation of an electrical Surge Protection Device (SPD) on your property.

The rebate can be applied to multiple locations owned by the same policyholder, up to a maximum of $2,000.

Single or multiple SPDs can be installed in any dwelling, outbuilding, or commercial building on your property.

The SPD must be permanently connected at the building's electrical point of entry, or the main breaker panel to provide whole-house protection.

The SPD must have a minimum 80KA - Surge Current Rating.

The SPD must incorporate a means of ensuring that the unit is functioning properly when in service, such as a diagnostic light or other monitoring system.

The SPD must be installed by a qualified individual, such as a Licensed Electrical Contractor, and be inspected by the Electrical Safety Authority (ESA). A copy of the ESA Certificate of Acceptance must also be submitted.

It is preferred that the SPD has consumable modules that can be easily replaced after a surge event. Your electrical Contractor can provide further information on these types of units.

You must be an existing policyholder. The device must have been installed after January 1, 2022. Eligibility for this program is limited to once in any five-year period.
